The speech was a transgression of proprieties. It was an affront to every delegate present laboring under the impression that the conference had been sincerely called for the single Democratic Convention in Disguise purpose of discussing trusts. Goveror Stephens had notified Governor Sayres that he had prepared a speech for the occasion. It read like one prepared for a democratic convention.

Later in the day, however, Governors Stephens and Sayres suffered at the hands of Governor Leade M. Shaw, of lows, a master of surcasm and wit. Governor Shaw came to the conference impressed with its importance. He was astounded when Sayres, folowed by Stephens, threw into it their partisan feelings. His surprise found expression, and, in the language of a femocratic onlooker, he "skinned" Governor Stephens and hung his hide on the fence. Two other republicans in the gathering-Gov. Hazen S.
